IN RE COMPLAINT AGAINST SEVEN JUDICIAL OFFICERS

MEMORANDUM

Complainant has filed a profanity filled judicial misconduct complaint against seven judges. The basis for the complaint is that the judges erred in their rulings involving complainant's underlying litigation. A judicial misconduct proceeding is not a permissible alternative to an appeal. It is not an error-correction device. See House of Representatives Report No. 96- 1313, 96th Cong., 2nd Sess. (1980) at 10. If the judges erred, the remedy is not through the judicial misconduct complaint process. Section 352(b)(1)(A)(ii) of Title 28 of the United States Code and Rule 11(c)(1)(B) of the Rules for Judicial-Conduct and Judicial-Disability Proceedings specifically exclude allegations calling into question the correctness of a judge's ruling. Erroneous rulings are the bases for complainant's complaint.

Therefore this complaint is dismissed pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 352(b)(1)(A)(ii) and Rule 11(c)(1)(B) of the Rules for Judicial-Conduct and Judicial-Disability Proceedings.

* This complaint was assigned to Circuit Judge Richard A. Posner pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 351(c).
